The Problem We Identified

Daily Reliance on Roti:

Pakistani households rely on roti daily, but celiac and gluten-sensitive consumers cannot consume wheat.

Expensive Imports:

Imported gluten-free products are highly expensive and mostly intended for baking breads/cakes, not making soft rotis.

Poor Roti Performance:

Existing local alternatives break easily during rolling or become hard and dry immediately after cooking.

Our Solution: Gluten Zero

A local, affordable gluten-free multi-grain flour designed specifically to create soft, flexible rotis.

1. 100% Gluten Free & Wheat-Free Roti Special Formula (Unique natural binding) Multi-Grain Blend for superior nutrition High Fiber content for digestive health No Artificial Preservatives

Product Identity & Branding

Sub-Brand (Product-Line): Gluten Zero

The name immediately communicates our zero-gluten promise directly to the customer. It creates an instant understanding of the product value.

Parent Brand: Aljannat Foods

Acts as the corporate umbrella to provide overarching trust, safety, and operational credibility, which is essential for dietary and medical food markets.

Challenges & Learnings

Product Development:

Achieving the soft roti texture was difficult and required multiple trials and exact binder ratios.

Customer Trust:

Gluten-free buyers are highly cautious; precise packaging and branding revisions were needed to build trust.

Marketing Costs:

Meta ad costs required careful monitoring to ensure profitable and sustainable customer acquisition.

Operational Security:

Maintaining formula secrecy means we absolutely cannot outsource the final mixing phase.

Future Growth Plan

- 1. Official Certification: Acquire formal lab testing and gluten-free certification to boost medical trust.
- 2. Geographic Expansion: Scale beyond Lahore & Sheikhpura out across Punjab.
- 3. Strategic Partnerships: Expand our nutritionist referral network and secure dedicated pharmacy placements.
- 4. New Product Lines: Introduce a 5 kg family pack and build a dedicated WhatsApp repeat-order list.

Gluten-Free. Pure Goodness.
